

Zeteo Mission Statement

December 2015

In a world of selfies, billionaires, specialists, and loneliness, Zeteo is for those who keep reading widely, reflecting deeply, and discussing enthusiastically. Our writers seek to span the disciplines and to integrate personal circumstances, political views, and intellectual interests. We have not turned our backs on the past, and, as online publishers and human beings, we are constantly adapting to the present. Like the monasteries on whom the survival of a Western Civilization came to depend, we seek to be a refuge for a rich, imperative way of life.